originally published in 1966 this was the first book on this subject to be published for over a hundred years it covers all facets including little known types of gaelic song the bagpipes and their music including the esoteric subject of pibroch the ceol mor or great music of the pipes it gives a comprehensive review of the fiddle composers and their music and of the clarsach and its revival with an example of all but extinct scottish harp music a chapter is devoted to the music of orkney and shetland and the book contains over 100 examples of music many of which were from the author s own collection and published here for the first time by the end of the nineteenth century chinese culture had fallen into a stasis and intellectuals began to go abroad for new ideas what emerged was an exciting musical genre that c c liu terms new music with no direct ties to traditional chinese music new music reflects the compositional techniques and musical idioms of eighteenth and nineteenth century european styles liu traces the genesis and development of new music throughout the twentieth century deftly examining the social and political forces that shaped new music and its uses by political activists and the government the ellington century is a wonderful journey through the world of music and art if you are already an aficionado of ellington s music you will enjoy the author s informative and detailed analysis of the composer s work and musical influences if you are less familiar this book puts ellington s music in perspective with the great classical composers of the twentieth century david schiff s remarkable insight into the historical and musical parallels between these composers is a delight to read and his references are vast from schoenberg s pierrot lunaire and stravinsky s agon to television s sesame street schiff writes with a sense of humor and an enthusiasm for ellington s music that comes out on every page george manahan music director american composers orchestra david schiff points us forward observing that ellington s music asks us to see with our ears and hear with our eyes writing as a composer and scholar he has a gift for making complex ideas strikingly clear his insights move across a huge terrain of twentieth century culture as he builds bridges in his musical and cultural analysis where many have not seen a connection yet each musical work each artist is given his or her equal due in this sense he has met the spiritual and cultural challenge of ellington s life work marty ehrlich composer instrumentalist associate professor of improvisation and contemporary music hampshire college
